

OUR CHEDER'S VOICE

CHEDER CHABAD BOYS DIVISION

LETTER FROM THE MENAHEL:

Dear Parents,

It was nice to meet you this Monday night and catch up on how our precious talmidim are doing. May the efforts of our dedicated Rebbies and Teachers, compliment your chinuch and may we see revealed positive results for our children.

On Sunday, the younger grades were treated to a Puppet show. A big yasher koach goes to our dedicated askan, Avrohom Hayman, for sponsoring this show. The production was a new Purim show and the kids loved it. see pictures inside

THIS SUNDAY, PTA will bring a special Adar program to grades 4-6. A unique music and dance program will be led by shluchim from the mesivtah with each grade having its own slot. We are excited about this activity and very much looking forward to it.

The marks for the fourth Chidon test are now available on mashpia.com. The representatives will be announced at a later time IYH. More research is required to establish who the Cheder representatives are.

This week we read Parshas Zachor. Chassidus explains that the kelipa of amalek is a contemporary "husk" that targets frum Yidden. Hashem's words and holiness are compared to fire, there is warmth and vitality in the place of Hashem. Amalek looks to instill a deep freeze in the hearts of Yidden stopping them from being inspired by the messages of Torah and by the greatness of Hashem. May we merit to wipe away the kelipah of Amaleik and may our Torah and mitzvos be filled with warmth and inspiration.

Wishing you a good Shabbos,

Rabbi Kaplan

A PEEK AT OUR WEEK

Mrs. Nadav's class has been using conjunctions in their daily writing. They wrote sentences using and, but and or and also the word because. The first graders have been working on identifying tens and ones in two-digit numbers while the second graders work on complicated two-digit subtraction. The upcoming excitement is the Purim carnival that the boys in the class are preparing. Each boy is planning what to do for his own booth, including making posters and getting their supplies ready. Next week, the first graders will be invited to come to the carnival, have lots of fun and win some special treats. We can't wait!

Mrs. Eckstein's 3rd graders completed all the multiplication tables from 1-12! They reviewed them on Monday by playing Multiplication BINGO. On Tuesday they had a multiplication bee. The air in the room was filled with anticipation as the boys lined up against the wall and were asked multiplication questions. One by one boys sat down...and then they were down to the final three boys. Mrs Eckstein asked them multiplication AND division questions...but she couldn't get them out! Finally Mrs. Karash came in, and they had a winner! Mazel tov to Benny Solomon for winning the bee and to Dovid Yedidyah Elisha for being the runner up! Kol hakavod to them and all the boys who came to Wednesday's math test well prepared!

In writing this week, in light of the expected forecast, the boys wrote a story about The Snowman Who Opened His Eyes. Mrs. Eckstein read all the stories to the class and an enjoyable time was had by all. In science the class began a new unit...on weather patterns and systems. They discussed the storms sweeping across the country and the record-breaking cold in Texas. A note from Mrs. Eckstein: MONDAY is the final day to present the invention project.

This week Mrs. Volfman's third grade spent time working on pre-division skills. They began the week by reviewing odd and even numbers and ordering them from least to greatest. Then they moved on to identifying patterns in products. They ended the week with learning divisibility rules of 2 and 10. For writing this week the class concentrated on writing a paragraph about reasons that they are thankful to their parents. In ELA the class read a passage and discussed the challenges the Wright brothers faced when they invented the airplane and how they overcame the challenge. They finished Chapter 6 in their Vocabulary books and of course enjoyed current events with the News on the Run.

Have a wonderful Shabbos!
