Our Cheder's Voice

CHADER CHABAD BOY'S DIVISION

Dear Parents,

LETTER FROM THE MENAHEL:

Wow! The first week of cheder zoomed by. The talmdim have gotten into the routines nicely.

We are looking forward to meeting you Monday night IYH. A schedule is attached for the slots for various classes. We aren't able to provide separate slots for each class. However, we divided the grades in a way that should make it possible for parents with more than one child in the cheder to meet two sets of Rebbies and teachers.

There will also be a meeting with the principals, who will discuss focus areas for this year and the planned special programs. It is our hope that you will partner with us and encourage your child to join the extracurricular programs. This is a great way to generate excitement and pique interest in learning and darchei hachassidus.

The mitzvos in this week's parshah are particularly focused on mitzvos that support vulnerable people, i.e. a person who forced to borrow money, a young couple in their first year of marriage, one who lost valuables, and many more.

The implications of this are obvious and certainly apply in the cheder setting. It is important for our children to recognize that a school setting may leave some children feeling vulnerable. Throughout the day a child may feel lost, hungry, anxious about a test, online in the bathroom, and other scenarios. We should strive to help them cope with the situation and support them.

Rebbies are always on the lookout for a child who may seem lost, but we can also help our children recognize that the Torah instructs us to seek out opportunities to help vulnerable people, and there are many chances of doing just that in cheder every day.

Wishing you a good Shabbos,

Rabbi Kaplan

Peek at the Week

Class 4A is always ready for a great day! Our learning has been taken to a new level. The boys are involved in all their lessons and they're showing great promise for much success this year. I am proud to inspire each student and help their learning come to life. We wrote all about our summer memories by preparing a rough draft. The boys included the 5 W's to complete their writing and when they are complete they will also present their stories to the class. Our first topic in math, the place value system, has us writing numbers using standard form, expanded form and word form to the hundred thousands. In addition we reviewed comparing, ordering, and rounding numbers. In our first Geography lesson, we introduced the various landforms in the US; mountains, plateaus, plains, rivers, deserts, canyons etc. and we will explore them further over the next few months. On 9/11 the boys were enlightened about the very grim details that unfolded- minute by minute. We discussed the many miracles that occurred that day as well, leaving us with great thanks to Hashem. I am looking forward to meeting all of the parents next week, and sharing our common goals for the year. Good Shabbos! Mrs. Feldman

The Third Grade returned from Summer Vacation eager and ready to learn! In Reading we learned a story about Winnie the Pooh who got stuck in a hole because he ate Rabbit's cream and honey greedily (we learned what greedy means). We discussed getting stuck literally as well as figuratively. We also discussed other creative ways to have gotten Pooh out of the hole. We began Social Studies; we learned about Earth spinning on its axis, lines of latitude, longitude, the equator and the Prime Meridian. We learned why we are at the beginning of the fall/winter season, while in the southern hemisphere, in places like Australia, they are at the beginning of summer! In addition, on Wednesday, September 11th, we learned a tremendous story about a bochur who was saved due to the precious Mitzvah of Tefillin. In Writing, we learned how to tell what does NOT belong in a paragraph, and we began to learn proper sequencing. In Math, we are reviewing the Math facts from last year while building on these skills. We are up to the Hundred Thousands column in Place Value! In Spelling we completed and were tested on Unit 1. Everyone is adjusting to our combined class (see pictures), and we can't wait to see what's in store for us next week! Have a gut Shabbos! Mrs. Eckstien

Mishna Beyadi
Learn. Review. Master.

FOR STUDENTS WHO HAVE HIGH GOALS FOR THEIR LEARNING.

Mishna Beyadi shows students just how far they can go in learning, providing them with tools and motivation for sustainable, lifelong learning habits.

Why it works

Students get the greatest geshmak from their learning when it's familiar and it's of their own volition.

This is where Mishna Beyadi comes in.

Mishna Beyadi is a FREE program where students learn Mishnayos at their own pace in small manageable chunks. This facilitates the ability to focus on small sections at a time and invites constant chazarah. And the more they chazer, the more of a geshmak they get!

How to start

All you need to do is register on our website. You will then be sent all the learning materials they will need.

Take the online Bechinas when they become available, and get amazing prizes!
