Our Cheder's Voice

CHEDER CHABAD BOY'S DIVISION

Dear Parents,

LETTER FROM THE MENAHEL:

As we welcomed the talmidim back to cheder, we jumped right in with a special Ahavas Yisroel Drive. The AYD is in honor of Zayin Cheshvan, the day the Yidden in Eretz Yisrael begin asking for rain. The Yidden delayed their plea for rain for two weeks so that the traveling Yidden wouldn't get rained on. They set aside their needs for the sake of their brothers and sisters who lived far away.

Though they needed rain, they placed the needs of others in front of their own each day. We are looking to bring this message home to our talmdim during the duration of these days.

Please ask your son to tell you about the AYD and encourage him to think of something nice to do for someone else and to reflect upon anything nice someone may have done for him and be grateful and express thanks by sharing the encounter with us.

A big thank you to the PTA for the Rosh Chodesh appreciation gift and note to the Rebbies and teachers and for the treats to all the cheder students. A special thank you to Mrs. E. Setton for her personal involvement in this month's gifts and treats.

We are looking forward to greeting you at PTC in one week. The information provided in this weekly newsletter about upcoming dates is one of the most important features. Please make sure to take a quick glance at the newsletter every week and make sure you are informed of scheduling changes and special days.

Wishing you a good Shabbos,

Rabbi Levi Kaplan

Peek at the Week

It was a bubble blast! The students had a wonderful time making humongous bubbles using their homemade bubble recipe and wave wand. They had to use their skills to follow directions to make them. The boys saw and then drew oak, maple, and sycamore leaves that are commonly seen at this time of year. In math, we are reviewing the multiplication tables and doing examples of 3-digit times 2-digit examples with decimals. Unit 3 will be completed in vocabulary by next week, and there will be a review game and then a test. We discussed the difference between electoral votes and popular votes. There are advantages to the electoral vote; It gives more power to the smaller states. On the other hand, it has a disadvantage as it makes little difference if not everyone votes. Only in the popular vote does each vote count. We began a large topic in our history book which corresponds to government. We are learning the powers of each branch of government. May the best president for Kelal Yisroel win. Have a gut Shabbos. Mrs. Trieger Grade 5.

The Third Graders returned from Sukkos vacation ready and eager to learn. In Math, we have almost completed the unit on Subtraction. In Spelling we completed Unit 4. This week we received our Readers! We are continuing to hone our reading skills, while at the same time, we are learning more about different animals. The Animal Report is due in a week from this coming Tuesday. In Writing, we begun developing our paragraph writing skills. We also learned that this week was 12 years since Hurricane Sandy. Mrs. Eckstein brought in sugar cubes and play-dough and demonstrated the dangers of storm surge. In Handwriting, we learned the lower-case letters T and I; we can already write quite a number of words!! Wishing you all continued nachas, a gut Shabbos and gezunte gebenshte Chodesh! Mrs. Eckstein Grade 3.

After a most uplifting and joyous Yom Tov, the boys returned to Cheder, with the Simchas Torah niggunim pouring out of them during recess. Oh so zees! They wrote down what they cherished most. Including a "feeling" sentence. In connection with our Cheder's Ahavas Yisroel Drive, we read a story about a young person who helped an elderly person keep her toy shop in order. Both people, who were kind to each other, benefitted. In Math, we were delighted to receive our Math books and reviewed basic addition and subtraction facts. Special "shout out" to Mrs. Shusterman, for pressuring the East Ramapo district staff and going to pick them up for us. We had a Compound Word challenge and the boys came up with many great words. pineapple, daylight, backpack, etc. In Spelling, the new lesson was on short i words, as in clip and bit. We had fun doing a word-search with the words. As we get closer to Election Day, the boys learned about the process of voting and the importance of every vote. Check out the pictures of the sunny outdoor recess days. Wishing all a Gut Chodesh and a Gut Shabbos!

Mrs. Levin Grade 2.
