CHADER CHABAD BOY'S DIVISION

LETTER FROM THE MENAHEL:

Dear Parents,

As shluchim from the world over gather to celebrate their zechus to be the Rebbe's global messengers, their children, too, participate in a program of their own, highlighting the zechus they have to grow up on shlichus and be part of the shluchim families.

Owe often speak to our children and students about the responsibility of being Yidden ad chssidim. It is obvious that this must be emphasized in a time when the host culture focuses on rights we must remind our children that the Torah focuses on responsibility not rights and entitlement.

So, parents, Rebbeim and mashpiim keep reminding them of the achrayus they have as the Rebbe's children when they walk down the street and are in public places representing Chabadniks.

It is just as important to speak about the zechus that has been granted to us, the ashreinu ma tov chelkeinu of being a chossid. We must express and teach in a detailed way the good fortune we have been given, the clear path that the Rebbe has paved for us in every aspect of our lives. Despite the darkness and sense of hopelessness that many have we are gifted a life of meaning.

This great gift of being, being a chosid, the identity that is ours must be expressed and celebrated by every chosid, not only by those who join the kinus. Each of us should offer our children their own little banquet marking the zechus we have to live in the Rebbe's light. .

Wishing you a good Shabbos,
Rabbi Levi Kaplan

Peek at the Week

As the Idiom “Cold Shoulder” was introduced, the boys quickly ran to put on their jackets. After learning the figurative meaning, we played out this scenario with each other and understood that as yidden with Ahavas Yisroel we surely would not want to act this way. “Such a cute assignment.” “Our Bubby loved the call.” That was the feedback of last week’s Idiom.

The next unit in Spelling focused on words ending in CK. Rule of thumb is when the word is one syllable preceded by a short vowel it has a CK ending. Our Chapter in Reading, “The Missing Cupcakes” was quite shocking. The Smith family was en route to Grandma’s party and discovered that the cupcakes were missing. Did the family dog, Baxter eat them? Were they thrown out by the housekeeper? They decided to go back home and were relieved to find them there. Everyone seemed to have left something behind so no one minded the detour. Our lessons in Math reinforced the DOUBLES strategy to find the sum/difference. We are most grateful for all the good that Hashem bestows on us and offered our thanks for a day off to prepare for Shabbos Kodesh. Gut Shabbos and Gut Chodesh! Mrs. Levin - Grade 2B

Although we had a shorter school week, Kittah Gimmel was at it again, with a learning-packed week! We completed our unit on Graphs and will be doing an in-class project next week iy"H. Our next Math topic is telling time, and elapsed time. We received a new book this week: our vocabulary books, a.k.a. our Wordly Wise books! We look forward to expanding our vocabulary and writing skills with the book! Speaking of writing, this week the boys learned to write short paragraphs. They wrote about a kind deed they did for someone else. They also brought in their acrostic projects. Some boys read their work to the class (see pictures). They did a fantastic job!! The boys also enjoyed doing ART with Mrs. Jacobs on Monday. We capped off our week with our much anticipated ANIMAL REPORT EXPO! Thank you to all the parents who changed around their schedules to come. We hope you enjoyed our projects as much as we enjoyed presenting them! Have a gut Shabbos and guten Chodesh! Mrs. Eckstein - Grade 3
